Roundtable 2

Supporting a just transition and just resilience: emerging approaches and partnership opportunities

4th September/10:30-12:00/Cartagena de Indias, Colombia, Barahona 2

Detailed information about the session
Rationale	Mitigating climate change and adapting to its accelerating impacts will require social and economic transitions of an unprecedented scale and speed. Efforts to decarbonise our economies and the transition to climate resilient economies must be just and socially fair or there will be no sustainable transition. Public development banks have an essential role to play. The MDBs have adopted a set of “Just Transition High-Level Principles” to guide work in this area and are moving forward in operationalising their respective approaches. Partnerships will be essential to complement their financial products and existing technical advisory offering, as will be concessional finance. This session will therefore bring in different types of stakeholders to discuss emerging approaches and partnership opportunities of fostering a just transition and just resilience across the world.
Objective	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Discuss emerging approaches and experiences to support just transition efforts among Public Development Banks (PDBs), governments and other actors</li><li>- Explore the concept of just resilience and why it is an important complement to just transition</li></ul>
